ESSAYS IN ECONOMIC AND BUSINESS HISTORY

The Journal of the Economic and Business Historical Society

VOLUME XX, 2002

BOARD OF EDITORS

Editor:
Michael V. Namorato, University of Mississippi

Associate Editors:
Thomas Winpenny, Elizabethtown College
Richard Keehn, University of Wisconsin, Parkside

Published by the EBHS and the Department of History, The University of Mississippi

ISSN: 0896-226X
Library of Congress Catalog Card Number: 79-91616
HC12.E27

Cover Design by James Ronald Bartlett

Printed in the U.S.A. by Sheridan Books Inc., Chelsea, Michigan
ECONOMIC AND BUSINESS HISTORICAL SOCIETY

OFFICERS AND TRUSTEES, 2002

Chair of the Trustees (Chief Executive Office):
Laurence Malone (Hartwick College)

Immediate Past Presidents and Officers
Laurence Malone (Hartwick College)
Richard H. Keehn (University of Wisconsin-Parkside)

President and Program Chair, 2002
Malcolm Russell (Andrews University)

President Elect and 2003 Program Chair
Harvey Hudspeth (Mississippi Valley State University)

Vice-President for Membership:
Silvano A. Wueschner (William Penn University)

Secretary/Treasurer: Gene Smiley (Marquette University)

Editor: Michael V. Namorato (University of Mississippi)

Associate Editors: Thomas R. Winpenny (Elizabethtown College)
Richard H. Keehn (University of Wisconsin-Parkside)

Production Editor: James Ronald Bartlett (University of Mississippi)

Trustees: Allen Bures (Radford University) - 2004
Magdalena Rapp (Tennessee Technological University) - 2004
John Rossi (Pennsylvania State University - Erie) - 2004
Michael Smith (University of South Carolina) - 2002
James Stitt (High Point University) - 2004
Kenneth Weiher (University of Texas-San Antonio) - 2002

Founder: Charles J. Kennedy (University of Nebraska)
Preface

The articles and abstracts published in this volume of Essays in Economic and Business History were initially presented at the Society’s annual conference in April, 2001 at Albany, New York, ably directed by Professor Laurence Malone, who also handled the local arrangements. Authors were given the opportunity to submit their papers for review and possible publication. A rigorous review process was followed in which each paper submitted was examined by two separate reviewers and then by the editor. If the reviews were favorable, authors were given an opportunity to address the comments and suggestions offered by the reviewers and the editor. Of the papers submitted, 14 articles from the Albany conference were accepted for publication. Due to financial and space constraints, not all papers given in Albany could be published. Instead, authors were given an opportunity to submit a one-page abstract for inclusion in the journal. One author accepted the invitation and the abstract is printed in this issue.

A number of individuals assisted the editor immeasurably in putting this current issue of the journal together. Special thanks are publicly expressed to the reviewers who gave of their time and talents in reviewing the articles sent to them. Since I told the reviewers initially that I would maintain confidentiality throughout the process, I feel duty-bound to do so now as well. Still, my gratitude is given to those who helped so much. My thanks also to my Associate Editors, Thomas Winpenny and Dick Keehn for helping me throughout the publication process.

A special thank you is given to the board of trustees who continue to support me as editor; to Laurence Malone who chairs the board and who is the foundation upon which EBHS is resting and relies; and to Gene Smiley who generously pays the bills and often boosts my spirits with his hearty laughter.

At the University of Mississippi, special appreciation is expressed to the Department of History for its financial and secretarial support, especially Robert Haws (Chairman, Department of History) and to Michael Upton, Matt Johnson, Ben Wynne, Michelle Palmertree, and Bette Harness for their proofing articles, e-mailing to everyone and every place, and typically bailing me out of a tight deadline.

Sheridan Books has been good to me as well, especially Jean Schroeder who always is cheerful and friendly when I call about some particularly vexing problem. And, finally, I want to thank the individual who is my Production Editor and who patiently and happily works side by side with me every step of the way in producing the 2002 edition of the journal. Without him, I simply could not have completed the task. He is a genius, a man of indomitable energy and compassion, and, most of all, a good friend — Professor Ronald Bartlett.
In closing, it is with great sadness that I report the death of Professor Charles Kennedy, the founding father of EBHS. As one of his former students and a friend, Phil Smith has written a most insightful and personal obituary for the journal.

Michael V. Namorato
Editor
University of Mississippi
ESSAYS IN ECONOMIC BUSINESS HISTORY (2002)

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Economic and Business Historical Society, Officers and Trustees...........................................ii

Preface...........................................................................................................................................iii

Research Papers

Europe

THE SOUTH PAYS FOR THE NORTH: FINANCING THE THIRTY YEARS’ WAR FROM NAPLES, 1622-1644

by Antonio Calabria, University of Texas, San Antonio..............................................................1

THE ROLE OF SALES AGENTS IN THE DIFFUSION OF U.S. MACHINE TOOL TECHNOLOGY IN EUROPE

by Roberto Mazzoleni, Hofstra University....................................................................................21

New Zealand

PRIVATE AND PUBLIC ENTERPRISE: FLETCHER CONSTRUCTION AND THE BUILDING OF NEW ZEALAND

by Astrid Baker, Massy University..............................................................................................39

North America

PROBLEMS IN ANALYZING INFLATION DURING THE CIVIL WAR

by Paul R. Auerbach, Kingston University..................................................................................57

Michael J. Haupert, University of Wisconsin - La Crosse

FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT, FEDERAL SPENDING, AND THE POSTWAR SOUTHERN ECONOMIC REBOUND

by Fred Bateman, The University of Georgia................................................................................71

Jason E. Taylor, The University of Virginia OZ, POPULISM, AND INTENT

by Ranjit S. Dighe, State University of New York at Oswego.........................85

by Harvey Gresham Hudspeth, Mississippi Valley State University......................97

EDWARD BOK: THE EDITOR AS ENTREPRENEUR

by W. David Lewis, Auburn University............................................................113

YANKEE ENTERPRISE! THE HOUGHTONS OF MASSACHUSETTS & THE RISE AND FALL OF ‘CORNING INCORPORATED’, 1851-1871

by Jeffrey J. Matthews, University of Puget Sound........................................127

FRANK A. VANDERLIP AND THE NATIONAL CITY BANK DURING THE FIRST WORLD WAR

by Priscilla Roberts, University of Hong Kong.................................................145

MONOPSONY AND MINIMUM WAGES: EVIDENCE FROM THE TOBACCO LEAF-PROCESSING INDUSTRY

by Andrew Seltzer, Royal Holloway College, University of London.....................167

“PEERLESS ADVOCATE: DANA’S CHRONICLE”

by Douglas Steeples, Macon, GA.................................................................183

THE DECLINE OF THE FEDERAL DEBT: LIFE WITHOUT HAMILTON’S BLESSING?

by Kenneth Weiher, University of Texas at San Antonio.................................199
ECONOMIC PRAGMATISM: THE IOWA AMISH AND THE VISION OF COMMUNAL COHERENCE IN LATE 20TH CENTURY AMERICA

by Silvano A. Wueschner, University of Iowa.........................................................215

Abstract

"THE NORDSTROM WAY - WILL IT SURVIVE?"

by Mark L. Gardner, Piedmont College...............................................................229

Obituary

CHARLES J. KENNEDY